THERE probably never was a time when grand demonstrations or the wary feelers of Trade Unionism, they seem to be as common: as railway travelling and about as cheap: For every real or imaginary grievance under strike, and having become as much habituated to this remedy as he' is to Holloway's ointment and cold-drawn castor oil, he equally rushes at it without professional advice. whenever he or his affairs begin to look a little " seedy." Indeed, this respected British workman is becoming quite a valetudinarian in all that relates to his social health, a term which, it is needless to say; means for him simply personal comfort at his employer's expense. Strikes are the medicine for all his diseases, and whother looked upon as the prescriptions of that fussy doctor the International, or solely as the natural resource of up the P. & O. boats. There are few that have not some cheering reminiscence of that dreadful process of "giving warning" on the part of those whom their places "don't suit," and nothing is more natural on such occasions than the putting forward of a strong objection to Sunday work (even with a potatoeclause or other salvo) as the thing that MARY JANE "never was used to and can't put up Court lying down on the floor screening, and. with." But somehow these things look funny making a great noise. He was called in to see. as forming part of the business of a Strike Committee. We notice with much pleasure that th honour of knighthood has been conferred upon Mr. D. B. Robertson, C.B., who has long held the position of Her Majesty's Consul at Canton, and who is one of the oldest and most respected public servents in China. The position of Consul at that port is one of much responsibility on account of its proximity to Honekong. and the duties of the post, which are thus out of proportion to the comparatively small foreign trade at Canton itself, have always been onrefully and efficiently performed. Mr. Robertson's corect in the Foreign Office Service dates as far back as 1842, when be was employed if the Mired Commission for the settlement of claims of the British Legion on the Portuguese Government. "He was appointed Vice Consu at Shanghai in 1843, and remained there till 1850, when he took charge at Ningpo, but be returned to Shanghai in 1851, and it will be remembered his name appears in 1852 as. Vice-Consul under that of Sir Rutherford Alcock, Consul, on the foundation stone of the old Consulate. In 1853 he was first appointed Acting Consul at Canton, In 1854 he was left in charge of the Superintendency at Hongkong during the absence of Her Majesty's Plenip tentiary, and in 1855 again went to Shanghai. In 1858 he was tranferred to Canton, but detained in Shanghai for service, and in 1859 .! again took charge of the Canton Consulate with which his career has since been identified It is interesting to local renders that he noted as Commissioner on the Kowloong territory i

THE INHERENT FALLACY OF BALLOT.

(To the Editor of the Pall Mall Gazette.) SIR.-Your Friday's article on the Government defeat on their stringent clause for secreey appears to me to have hit the nail on the sead-almost for the first time. I do not know whether that defeat will be fatal to their Ballot Bilt, and to any and every Ballot Bill, but I am sure it ought to be. Their insistance was It was logical because the absolute secrety they aim at can never be so ured unless it be made penal, and very severely penal, for a man to display his vote, inasmuch as the oppressor who either intimidates or bribes will insist upon his victim's proving to him that he has voted as he ordered him to vote, so long as it is left possible for him to prove it. But, at the same time, their insistance was irrationtemper of the House), because it was monatrous to risk a defeat and to press what (to say the ienst) was an extravagant proposal, in order to prohibit the exhibition of a voting paper to the eyes of six men, all sworn to secrecy; but still more because average Englishmen, common sense, and common justice alike revolt from the enormity of making it ponishable (by imprisonment) to do in 1872 what the law actually probibite from doing in 1871-of declaring criminal and penal in one year a practice which was our habit, our privilege, our ancentral boast the year before, and overy preceding year since the Constitution was in being. I ventured some three years since to point out in your columns that the true and Istal objection to the Ballot was that, whether desirable or not, real secrecy as to bow a man voted was simply not attainable. Ministers, and the friends of the Ballot generally, have now arowed their conversion to this view. They

The skull has behind the left car a fracture, the result, it is said, of a blow, add the bone of the pasal organ is also broken. The teeth on the lower jaw are perfect, and there are only a tew teeth missing from the upper jaw. The position of the skull when found shows that the body was forced into the ground with the face downwards. A medical centleman has given it as his opinion that foul play must have been used.
